CEO MESSAGE

“Better Community through Better Business” is more than our tag line, it’s our commitment to a goal to make life better in our beautiful community by helping businesses succeed.

The Greater Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce serves a community of 6,000 licensed businesses and a regional population of 100,000. We create special occasions like Nanaimo’s annual Business and Community Achievement Awards recognizing the top 20 businesses and community organizations, the Business Expo held during Small Business Month, our Christmas Luncheon & Auction with close to 500 guests and many other entertaining events. Throughout the year, we offer unique and valuable low cost and no-cost professional development opportunities to members, particularly with our ‘Good Morning Mastery’ series. And we develop programming and advocacy for specific sectors like tourism, tech and manufacturing.

We present monthly luncheons that regularly attract 100+ guests to hear speakers of social and economic significance. We shine the spotlight on individual member businesses by helping them host networking events called ‘Business After Business’.

The Chamber offers its members optional group health insurance programs for businesses with as few as one employee. We provide financial merchant programs that are among the lowest priced in the marketplace. Our “Member 2 Member” program provides discounts on fuel purchases, travel, accommodations and dozens of other offers – all the time, year-round from your neighbouring members.

We also focus energy on ‘government advocacy’ as we continually explore ways to break down barriers to business success by helping all levels of government understand that making it easier to do business helps the entire community in many ways.

Today’s Chamber is an excellent venue to initiate business contacts, procure business development resources, engage in Nanaimo’s corporate social scene and expose your unique value proposition in a variety of environments.

And lastly, we would like to extend a special thank-you to our Community Partners and Harbour Air for helping us create this inaugural publication.

Contact me at ceo@nanaimochamber.bc.ca with your comments and feedback whether you are a newcomer, considering a move to Nanaimo for your business, or a long-time member of our community. Your input is essential to improving the Chamber’s performance and helping Build a Better Community through Better Business!

Welcome To Nanaimo

The City of Nanaimo is a community of 90,000 located on the east side of Vancouver Island, approximately 110 km north of Victoria, the capital of British Columbia. The Regional District of Nanaimo has a population of approximately 150,000. The primary trading and services area served by Nanaimo is the 400,000 people living north of the Malahat – about half of Vancouver Island!

OUR HISTORY

Nanaimo was first settled thousands of years ago by the Coast Salish Peoples who named the area “Sne-ney-mous” which means “a meeting or gathering place”. The Coast Salish traveled from villages along the Nanaimo River and False Narrows to build longhouses at Departure Bay.

The Snuneymuxw First Nation is one of the largest Nations in B.C. with a population of over 1,700 people. Snuneymuxw territory encompasses one of the most productive and resource rich areas at the heart of the Salish Sea.

Change began with Imperial Spain’s explorers charting these coastal waters in 1791. Control over the area passed to the British Empire in the early 19th century and the first settlers arrived in the early 1800’s and set up a trading post, which established Nanaimo as an important hub of commerce. A fort was erected by the Hudson’s Bay Company in 1853 and is now a restored landmark. From 1852 until 1952, Nanaimo was primarily a coal town. Originally, coal-burning ships refueled here and coal was exported in large quantities from numerous mines in the area. The City of Nanaimo was incorporated as a municipality in 1874.

By the middle of the 20th century, increased demand for lumber and a declining need for coal brought the area’s thriving forests to the forefront. Nanaimo’s fishery also maintained a high profile as an economic driver during this time. Around the turn of the millennium, economic conditions were changing dramatically and resource industries started to lose their position as the driving forces of business and employment in the region.

Nanaimo has since risen in prominence as a centre for education, health care, government services, tech innovation & development, communications, tourism and as a transportation centre. This changing economic landscape will shape Nanaimo’s future and its changing demographics. Meanwhile, Nanaimo continues to develop as a centre for the meeting and movement of products and people – a gathering place, as always.

CLIMATE

Nanaimo boasts one of the mildest and sunniest climates in Canada, experiencing close to 1850 hours of sunshine annually. The city is protected from Pacific weather systems by a range of mountains which run the length of Vancouver Island. Nanaimo’s climate is also moderated by the Strait of Georgia.

The region’s range of moderate precipitation makes it the ideal place for year-round recreational pursuits. You can truly golf, sail, surf and ski all on the same day for many months of the year!

Approximately 88 percent of the businesses are small, employing fewer than 19 people; 155 businesses (4%) have more than 50 employees.

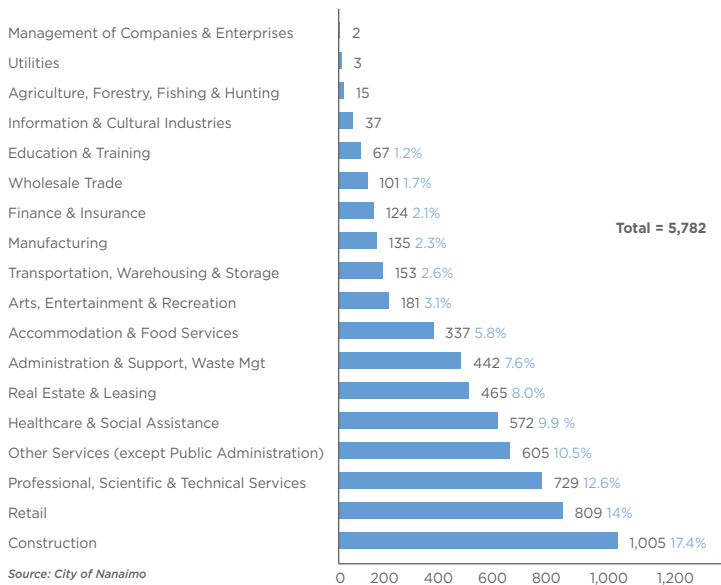

Businesses operating in Nanaimo are required to have a City of Nanaimo business licence. As of Dec 31, 2015 there were 5,782 licences issued for businesses operating in the city.

Most of Nanaimo's businesses are locally owned operations. 67% describe themselves as locally owned and operated, 3% are franchise operations and 9.49% are branch offices of larger companies.

Home-based businesses account for about 36% of total business licences issued. Many people choose to use their home as a "business incubator" to test their initial business ideas and later move into commercial space.

The figure below details the number of business licences issued by the city of Nanaimo, by industry sector. As of December 31, 2015, the construction sector had the highest number of licenses, accounting for 17.4% of the total. The retail sector has the second highest number of business licences accounting for 14.0% of the total. The chart does not include unlicensed businesses, government service operations, or not-for-profit organizations. City of Nanaimo data includes businesses of every size including single proprietors.

TRANSPORTATION

One of Nanaimo's greatest natural assets is its geographic location. It accounts for its early establishment as a 'gathering place' and has led to its acknowledgement as a transportation hub for the region. An all-weather airport, floatplane terminal, 3 BC Ferries terminals, a recently enhanced highway system (Island Parkway), and a public transit system spanning a widely spread-out community. The average commute time from the outer boundaries of the city to downtown is 20 minutes.

Air

The Nanaimo Airport – YCD, operated by the Nanaimo Airport Commission, is located 15 km south of the city. It is an all-weather (ILS) airport capable of handling medium size passenger jets (Boeing 737's etc). The airport's commercial interests are served by carriers such as WestJet, Air Canada & Island Express offering multiple flights daily to Vancouver, Calgary, Victoria, Abbotsford, Boundary Bay, Sunshine Coast and Comox. Charter services are also available. For additional information, contact the airport at (250) 245-2157 (www.nanaimoairport.com).

VANCOUVER ISLAND UNIVERSITY

Since its inception in 1936, Vancouver Island University (VIU) and its predecessors have always focused on serving the educational, training and economic needs of Vancouver Island and the Sunshine Coast. Its evolution from a trades school to a college, then a university-college, and now a university, reflects the evolution of the region from logging communities, to forest products, then natural resources, and now a multi-faceted economy focusing not just on the forest and sea resources in the region, but on the people, communities and businesses up and down Vancouver Island and the Sunshine Coast.

Vancouver Island University is a public, degree-granting institution that is the heart of Nanaimo's educational economic engine. It now has over 16,000 full-time Canadian students and 2,000 international students from more than 50 countries and an award-winning MBA program. Total employment impact is over 3,000 jobs. Vancouver Island University offers graduate and undergraduate degrees, diplomas and certificates, and a 5-level English Language program. Their influence on our community creates a cornerstone for education and knowledge development, and an economic driver in the knowledge sector.
