Living Better Starts Here

Alair is a Custom Contracting Company that offer its clients, partners, trade partners, and employees a unique, high quality, and fully transparent experience. The result of each project is a beautiful, custom-built, and expertly crafted home. More importantly, Alair delivers a positive experience with life-changing results.

Alair was thrilled to have won the award. “We're very flattered to receive the award and its recognition is of great help in standing out in a very competitive industry.” Acknowledging the competition of custom contractors here in Nanaimo, winning the award is bringing a new light to them

One thing Alair Homes is looking forward to in the future is help improve peoples lives through home happiness. They feel they are in “the human life improvement business and not the construction industry.” They operate with the viewpoint that their greatest competitive advantage lies with the personal relationships formed between all team members across Alair.
