

Charlie's Closet

Charlie's Closet is a consignment store that does their part for the environment by keeping a massive amount of clothing out of the landfill. They also help support the economy and provide quality pieces of clothing to the people of Nanaimo for an affordable price. They've built a community of women at their shop and offer comradery, support, and a children's play corner for any mothers shopping.

"I think everyone at the event saw how much this meant to me, and to my children," said Nadine, Charlie's Closet owner. The support of the community has built the business and changed her family's life. "It's been an honour just to be nominated the last few years, I never ever imagined they would call our name."

This win kicked off an amazing year for Charlie's Closet! Shortly after the Nanaimo Business Awards win, they took Best Consignment in the Best of the City awards. Their business has doubled within this past year due to hard work finally paying off and the added exposure from this wonderful acknowledgment.

You can find Charlie's Closet in Nanaimo's Old City Quarter! Or online on Facebook at Charlie's Closet Nanaimo or on Instagram at @charliesclosetnanaimo!
